CHEAP RATES TO AND FROM THE INAUGURATION.

The President Breaks an Unwritten Law By Withholding an Invitation From Senator Ingalls to His State Dinner—The Vesuvius' Speed in Excess of That Required by the Contract—Notes.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14.—The December report of the department of agriculture, which publishes in detail estimates of some of the more important crops, makes the product of corn 1,987,700,000 bushels, grown on 75,672,763 acres, valued on the farm at $677,561,590, or 34.1 cents per bushel, against 44.4 cents for the crop of 1887, a decrease of 23 per cent., the product of 1887 being 27 per cent. less in volume than that of 1888.

The wheat aggregate is 414,868,000 bushels, grown on 37,336,138 acres, valued at $984,238,090. The average yield is therefore 11.11 bushels per acre; winter wheat, 11.6 bushels, and spring wheat 10.3 bushels per acre. The average farm value is 92.5 cents per bushel, against 68.1 cent for the previous crop, a difference due more to foreign than domestic scarcity.

Fish Stories in the Senate.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14.—In the senate Friday afternoon Hale moved to amend Plumb's amendment by striking out from the free list the entire clause regarding fresh fish, so that no discrimination in favor of New England could be construed, though he denied at the same time that fresh fish were imported there to any great extent.

By striking out the clause he said Canadian fish, by other provisions in the bill, would be compelled to pay the same duties as Canada imposes on ours. Gray said the fact that a greater part of the fishermen employed on American vessels, are Canadians, was enough to break up the argument of encouraging fisheries as a nursery for American seamen.

Blair said it ought to make no great difference whether Americans or Canadians manned our vessels. On the other hand, he said that Canadians ought to be encouraged to cross the border, as it would help the amalgamation of Canada with this country.

Spooner denied that Canadians were employed by the American lake fishermen. He expressed surprise at the action of the finance committee putting fresh fish on the free list, when in the fisheries treaty discussion it was argued over and over again that Canada ought not to be permitted to enter her fish free. As the clause stood in the bill, and amended by Plumb, he regarded it as absolutely favoritism to Canada.

Stockbridge and Palmer seconded Spooner's views. Allison said fresh fish had been entered free since the act of 1861, and that was the reason the clause was in the bill. After hearing arguments concerning lake fishermen, he said they had scored a point by exhibiting discrimination against America by the act of 1861. He favored the amendment for that reason. Evarts also spoke in support of the amendment. Blair also favored it, and made further remarks in favor of political union of Canada with the United States.

Mr. Plumb's amendment was withdrawn and a vote taken on Hale's, resulting in the adoption. Yeas 28, nays 13. Allison then moved to put a duty of a half cent per pound on fresh fish. This was agreed to. Reagan offered an amendment, which was laid over, requiring American fishing vessels to be manned by Americans. The free schedule of the bill was then finished up.

Go to the Inauguration.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14.—The inauguration committee has arranged with the trunk lines west of Washington for a round trip rate for those who desire to attend the inauguration ceremonies next March. The following will be the fare for round trip ticket from the leading points in Ohio, Indiana, Kentucky and West Virginia to Washington and return: Cincinnati, $12.50; Cleveland, O., $11; Columbus, O., $12; Dayton, O., $12.50; Fort Wayne, Ind., $15; Indianapolis, Ind., $16; Lima, O., $12.50; Logansport, Ind., $16.75; Louisville, Ky., $15.45; Mansfield, O., $12.25; Newark, O., $12; Richmond, Ind., $14.25; Springfield, O., $12.50; Terre Haute, Ind., $18.25; Tiffin, O., $13; Toledo, O., $13.50; Vincennes, Ind., $18.25; Wheeling, W. Va., $10; Zanesville, O., $12.

An Unwritten Law Broken.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14.—The president of the United States, probably with deliberate intent has insulted the incumbent of the second office under the United States. This in withholding an invitation from Senator Ingalls to his state dinner. The unwritten law, and heretofore uninterrupted usage, has always been to include the presiding officer of the senate among state guests. No invitation, however, was sent to Senator Ingalls. The insult Ingalls does not take so much to heart in his own personality as to the distinguished office he holds.

Phenomenal Speed of the Vesuvius.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14.—A dispatch was received at the navy department Friday morning from Lieut. Cowles, at Philadelphia, stating that the dynamite cruiser Vesuvius, at the third official trial Thursday, obtained a speed of 21.64 knots an hour, an excess of 1.64 knots over the speed required by the contract. The trial took place in deep water in Delaware bay, over a two and a half mile course, the vessel running back and forth. The vessel will undoubtedly be accepted by the government.

Walker Blaine Breaks His Leg.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14.—Mr. Walker Blaine, while alighting from a cab at the Hotel Normandie, Friday night, about 9 o'clock, fell and broke his right leg about three inches above the ankle. Drs. Lincoln and Magruder were at once called and set the broken limb.

Republicans Favor an Extra Session.

ington dispatch gives interviews with a number of Republican congressmen showing a preponderance of sentiment in favor of an extra session of congress this spring.

QUICKEST CONVICTION ON RECORD.

Eleven Hours After Committing a Theft the Thief Is in Sing Sing.

NEW YORK, Jan. 14.—When Policeman Charles Rickard was caught stealing in a Nassau street store at 3 o'clock in the morning of April 30, and was locked up in Sing Sing before sundown of the same day, the case was hailed as the quickest criminal prosecution on record. It was beaten Friday by two hours, and the case occurred in the same precinct where Rickard committed his crimes.

The victim of the law in this case was Frank Butler, a brass finisher, twenty-three years old, who lived at 108 South street. Early in the morning he entered a room in the building at 86 South street and went through the clothing of Frank Chini, who was sleeping there. Butler took away a gold ring and a handful of English coins worth $30. Chini is a seaman. He had engaged himself to sail from this port to-day, and as his testimony was necessary to secure conviction in the case, Capt. McLaughlin determined to push the matter as rapidly as possible. Butler was arrested at 5 a. m. by Policeman Madden.

As soon as the Tombs court was ready for business Capt. McLaughlin was on hand with his prisoner. Justice Ford conducted the preliminary examination and promptly remanded Butler to await the action of the grand jury. There was not much waiting about it, for the captain explained the situation to the jury and an indictment was forthcoming before noon.

Then Capt. McLaughlin rushed his prisoner and the witnesses into the court of general sessions, where Judge Martine was hearing a variety of cases. Butler's case was taken up at about 1 o'clock. He was found guilty, and in short order was sentenced to Sing Sing for two years and eleven months.

A 2 o'clock policeman walked into the old slip station house and reported that Butler was on his way to prison. He left New York for his up country residence at the same hour that Rickard did, but there had been two hours less time between the arrest and the departure.

Another Squabble Settled.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 14.—General Manager Towne, of the Southern Pacific company, stated Friday evening that the difficulty between the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers and Master Mechanic Ryan, of the Atlantic division of the Southern Pacific road, had been adjusted after a conference with Chief Arthur and his committee, and on terms satisfactory to the company and the engineers. He would not state, however, whether or not Ryan would be retained in the company's employ. Chief Arthur was seen, and confirmed the statement that the trouble had been satisfactorily settled.

A Murderer Suicides.

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 14.—Henry Kruse, the man who shot Wad. McManus, a prominent St. Louis capitalist Thursday, and for whom the police have been searching ever since, committed suicide Friday afternoon in a lodging house on North Third street. Kruse, it is thought, had been rendered insane by the failure to secure money with which to push his car motor.

IRREGULARITIES

In the Office of the Appraiser of the Port of New York.

SPECIAL TREASURY AGENTS NOW INVESTIGATING THE FRAUDS.

Which, It is Said, Will Amount to Millions of Dollars—Certain Merchants Have Been Favored at the Expense of the Government and Honest Importers of Sugar, Tobacco and Wool.

NEW YORK, Jan. 14.—Secretary Fairchild has ordered that all the special treasury agents in the country, who can be spared from their posts of duty, shall hasten at once to this city to assist in a thorough investigation of the office of the appraiser of the port.

The chief supervising special agent, Col. Jewell, of Washington; Col. Montgomery, the chief treasury agent at Boston, and Mr. A. K. Tingle, the special agent, one of the three who investigated the custom house two years ago, are now in New York. As fast as the other special agents arrive they will be assigned to the respective line of detective work for which the chief supervising agent thinks them to be best fitted.

This important step is the result of a conference at the custom house Friday afternoon, in the collector's office, between Collector Magone and Appraiser A. B. Stearns, of Boston, who has temporarily taken charge of the office made vacant by Mr. McMullen's removal. Evidence of a startling nature as to the corruption and rottenness of the appraiser's office under Mr. McMullen's management was presented.

There is not the slightest hint reflecting upon the personal integrity of Mr. McMullen, whose unfortunate position, after a long and faithful service of thirty-six years in the appraiser's office, arouses general sympathy among the custom house officials. But there seems to be no doubt whatever, that the most gigantic frauds have been perpetrated during the past three years, in which he has been the head of that most important office.

Certain merchants have been favored at the expense of the government and of honest importers, under valuations on an enormous scale has been permitted and the treasury department has been defrauded of millions of dollars. That may seem like a strong statement, but it comes from no less a personage than Appraiser Stearns.

The preliminary work of the investigation has begun, and it is predicted that within forty-eight hours the removal of Assistant Appraiser Sterges, of the division having charge of the appraisement of tobacco, whisky and groceries, will follow. Examiner Moore, of the tobacco division, will also go at the same time. They are supposed to have permitted the irregularities in the importation of Sumatra tobacco.

One of the first officials to be overhauled, will be Assistant Appraiser Moore, of the damage allowance division, who is not to be confused with Examiner Moore, of the tobacco division, above referred to.

Examiner Bartwell, of the wool division, will also be called on to explain. The charge against him is that he has permitted the importation of what are known as wool noils—a cheap grade of foreign wool—at five cents a pound duty, when at all other ports the entry of the same grade of goods was not permitted at less than ten cents duty.

Appraiser Stearns, when asked in what division these frauds were chiefly practiced, said: "So far they appear to be in the sugar department. But we have not investigated the others thoroughly yet. I have discovered that an immense amount of new sugar has been passed without the payment of proper duties. When I say that millions of dollars were saved by the importers you will understand how great a quantity of raw sugar has been landed here within the past three years without the payment of proper duties. This could not have been done without collusion on the part of government employees."

"How was the scheme worked?" "By false tests of the sugar, I suppose, and fraudulent samples. The coming investigation will probably throw more light upon the method of the swindle."

Meantime it is said that Mr. McMullen intends to contest the legality of the manner of his removal, which, he claims, was not in accordance with Section 1767 of the revised statutes.

Minister Wayland and Murdered.

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., Jan. 14.—A special from Hartzel, Ala., says: Thursday night Rev. Benjamin Rains, a Methodist preacher, was stabbed to death in the western part of Morgan county. Rains, his brother Bob and a man named Sims had been to Somerville and started for home in the afternoon. The minister's horse reached home riderless late at night and his family sent out a messenger. The dead body was found eight miles from his home lying at the side of the road. There is no clew to the murderer.

Chicago's Danger of a Water Famine.

CHICAGO, Jan. 14.—The man in charge of the crib, which is two miles out in the lake at the source of the city's water supply, sent a telephone message to the city engineer this morning, that the inlets to the water tunnel were choked with broken ice, and asking for help. A heavy tug will be chartered and an attempt made to reach the crib. The lake, as far as can be seen, is filled with slush ice, and unless the inlets can be kept clear a water famine will soon be the result.

The Right Kind of a Marshal.

SYCAMORE, Ill., Jan. 14.—While engaged in arresting a disturber of the peace at Kirkland, Ill., Thursday night, the village marshal was set upon by a gang of roughs. The marshal drew his revolver and fired three shots, each one taking effect. One man was shot through the lungs, receiving a probably fatal wound. Another was shot in the thigh, while the third was wounded in the forehead.

One Hundred and Two Rounds.

SHAMOKIN, Pa., Jan. 14.—Matthew Williams, of Lykens, and William McCarthy, of this city fought one hundred and two rounds, under London prize ring rules, Friday afternoon. The referee gave the victory to Williams on account of a foul. They fought five hours.

HOW THEY ARE COMING.

A Review of the Country's Trade For the Past Week.

NEW YORK, Jan. 14.—R. G. Dun & Company's weekly review of trade says: Not the least important feature of the railroad presidents' arrangement is the fact that bankers of large influence commit themselves, in case the compact is signed to refuse their countenance, or aid to the negotiations, where either of the railroads agreeing to the compact object.

The report of the interstate commission shows that on 130,000 miles of road for the year ending June 30, 1888, the stock and bonds were of equal par value, but on 52½ per cent. of the stock no dividend was paid, and on 30 per cent. of the bonds no interest, while the proportion paying less than 4 per cent. was 63 per cent. of the stock and 21 per cent. of the bonds.

The decision of Judge Barrett, holding that the sugar trust is illegal and void is of large importance. No change occurs as yet in prices of sugars, and it may be premature to suppose that other forms of agreement escaping the legal objections found in this case may not continue to control markets. There are signs in Europe that the copper trust is trying to cast upon the public part of its accumulating load through the organization of a copper bank. Speculation in hogs and land has tended toward lower figures.

Another decline in wheat has occurred, the price closing one and three-eighths cents lower for the week, exports being still arrested. Corn fell one and one-eighth cents, and oats advanced nearly one cent, with oil practically unchanged and cotton a shade stronger. The weekly output of anthracite and coke iron January 1 was 142,452 tons, against 136,627 a month ago, and 121,307 a year ago. For the past year the production is estimated at 6,500,000 gross tons. The enormous supply makes the market duller than usual for the season. In the rail market no change is reported. The demand for bar iron is somewhat improved, and $1.80 to $1.75 is quoted for the best refined. The coal trade is very dull, and the restriction of output is now so far enforced that the record for the last week of December was only 474,383 tons.

In the wool trade the demand is not large, but prices are firmly held in the belief that stocks are scarce. Cotton goods are in better demand at steady or improving prices. Sales in speculative markets have been small during the past week, and the general tendency of prices for commodities as a whole is still downward. Reports from interior towns show that failures continue numerous, and the complaints of tardy collections frequent. But there is hardly any complaint of monetary scarcity. The treasury holds about $5,000,000 less cash than it did a week ago, and at present apprehensions of gold exports are lessened by heavy exports of merchandise. The money market here is easier, and rates lower than a week ago, and the feeling of confidence in the financial and commercial future is still unshaken.

The failures during the last seven days number 381, as against 387 the last week, and 220 the week previous. For the corresponding week last year the figures were 279.

Strangle and Fatal Affair.

WHEELING, W. Va., Jan. 14.—At Benwood, a suburb of this city, Friday a building was blown up by gunpowder and the occupants seriously injured. The house had been unoccupied, and was one story high. Two boys, John Long, and William Vergit, aged about twelve years, entered and kindled a fire in a grate before which they sat down. About ten minutes later a heavy object rattled down the chimney. As the boys leaned forward to learn what it was a terrible explosion occurred, which wrecked the house and threw the boys a considerable distance. Vergit lost both eyes, and is otherwise badly hurt, and Long had the flesh torn from his face in a horrible manner. Both of them will probably die. It is unknown how the powder was placed there.

Good Winter For Cattle.

HELENA, Mont., Jan. 14.—Relative to the condition of cattle in Montana during the present season, and the outlook for the winter, Conrad Kohrs, the largest cattle raiser in Montana, said that he had never seen a more favorable state of affairs during his twenty-five years' residence in the territory. Cattle are thriving, and from all indications not a single head will be lost at the close of the winter. He estimates the season's exports from the territory at 100,000 head, and the number driven in from Texas and Wyoming at 135,000.

The Earth Trembled.

PLATTSBURG, N. Y., Jan. 14.—Reports from Dannemore say a shock of earthquake was felt there Friday night about 6:30, so severe that people ran from their dwellings to the streets in alarm. A similar shock was also felt at Saranac Lake, Lake Norrisville, Cadyville, Loon Lake, Saranac, Clayburg and Lyon Mountain. The shock was barely perceptible in Plattsburg. All drops on the switch board at the telephone exchange dropped at 6:40.

Vessey and Cargo a Total Wreck.

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 14.—The passengers, crew, mails and valuables of the steamship McGregor, wrecked on a reef in Ascension bay December 30, were saved. The vessel and cargo are a total loss. The vessel was valued at $130,000 and was probably insured by her English owners.

Death of a Missionary.

GREAT BARRINGTON, Mass., Jan. 14.—Rev. Henry J. Van Lennep, D.D., aged seventy-three years, son of a missionary and himself a missionary for thirty years, born at Smyrna, a graduate of Amherst and since 1878 principal of Sedgwick institute, this village, died Friday.

Halstead Will Address the Editors.

OSHKOSH, Wis., Jan. 14.—President Hicks, of the Wisconsin press convention, has received a letter from Murat Halstead, of the Cincinnati Commercial Gazette, accepting an invitation to deliver an address before the Wisconsin editors, at Madison, January 24.

Killed By a Blast.

MONTROSE, Cal., Jan. 14.—James Crowley and Will Maddin, while blasting on the San Miguel river about seventy miles from here Friday, were instantly killed by the accidental discharge of giant powder.

DAILY EVENING BULLETIN.

DAILY, EXCEPT SUNDAY.
ROSSER & MCCARTHY.
 Proprietors.

MONDAY EVENING, JAN. 14, 1889.

THE electors of the various States meet to-day to vote for President. General Harrison, it is presumed, is taking things easy.

THE U. S. Senate has confirmed the appointment of Samuel T. Leavy, of Central Kentucky, to be Government Agent at the Yankton Indian Agency, Dakota.

THE Republican Senate has reduced the tariff on pearls, but the duty on the thread used by the poor sewing women, who get 35 cents a dozen for making shirts, remains the same.

For Heaven's sake, says the Lincoln (Ill.) Times, give us a rest on all this newspaper twaddle about Bill Jones or Tom Billes sending a turkey or a cord of wood to "President-elect" Harrison, and this hogwash about Mrs. Harrison's shopping adventures. It smacks of a slobbering sentimentality that is nauseating. If Republican editors want to kiss the feet of their minority President, let them do it, but don't hoist all this bosh on an unoffending public. We agree with the Times on this point.

The Tobacco Growers.

A call for a tobacco growers' convention appears in this issue.

The object of that convention is to get the farmers of the white burley district to abstain from raising any crop this year.

It is very doubtful whether any such agreement can be made. The district is too large, and it will be found impossible to get many to enter such an association.

The better plan, it seems, would be to limit the acreage of the coming crop. One thing is evident and that is the price of the weed will continue ruinously low as long as such crops as the one last year are produced.

The question is an important one and will be fully discussed at the proposed meeting. It would be well for those interested to pay some attention to the call published elsewhere.

A Black Eye for the Trusts.

Judge Barrett has given the "trusts" a black eye. He doesn't agree with James G. Blaine in his opinion that such combinations are private affairs with which no one has any right to interfere.

The North River Sugar Refining Company recently went into the "Sugar Trust." Its works were closed and its hands were thrown out of employment. Suit was commenced to forfeit the company's charter, and Judge Barrett granted the petition.

The New York Herald says: "Judge Barrett's decision is a red letter event. It is a signal victory for the people, not alone of New York but of every State in the Union.

"Every wage-earner in the country must be grateful that a fatal blow has been dealt combinations of capitalists who clutch at the power to curtail employment in order to restrict production. Every consumer of limited or moderate means will feel jubilant that the trust whose great aim is to advance the prices of necessities of life stands condemned by law.

"All but the few trade barons who seek their own enrichment may well rejoice that one of the worst forms of monopoly that has loomed up in modern times to menace the business and industrial interests of the country, to undermine the welfare of the masses, and especially to increase the burdens of the needy, has been doomed to surrender its power and abandon its avaricious designs."

The Meeting To-night.

Another public meeting in the interest of the Maysville Manufacturing Association will be held at the Council Chamber this evening at 7 o'clock.

Every citizen of Maysville is urged to attend. Take the matter up, and do all you can to help the move along.

There are four Presbyteries in the Synod of Brazil.

John H. Love & Co. Assign.

John H. Love & Co., of Covington, made an assignment Friday to Charles W. McIntyre for the benefit of their creditors. They were conducting a dry goods and carpet house. Mr. McIntyre says that the cause of the assignment is that some of the creditors threatened suit against them, and they desired to place them all on an equal footing. He claims that they owe $18,000 to sundry creditors, but does not name them. They assign all of their stock of goods, together with the outstanding accounts. They also assign their real estate and all the interests they possess in any thing.

The senior member of the firm was traveling salesman for an Eastern house for years, and is well known in Maysville. His friends here will regret to learn of his financial troubles.

Tobacco Growers' Convention.

To the Tobacco Growers of the White Burley Tobacco Producing Districts: Believing that the interest manifested by the county meetings recently held in a number of tobacco producing counties justify us in calling a general meeting, we take the liberty of naming Monday 4, 1889, as the day, and Lexington, Ky., as the most accessible place for said general meeting.

See that your county is represented. The above time and place have been approved by the actions and words of the interested parties in Owen, Pendleton, Bourbon, Gallatin, Fleming and other counties.

The above notice was sent to this office by the Tobacco Growers' Association of Nicholas County, who are taking an active interest in the move to prevent overcropping in the future.

The farmers of Mason are urged to take some action in the matter.

The Cause of His Death.

"Do you know what killed the late David Keefer, and what is the cause of Mike Knaul's poor health?" said a flour dealer on 'Change Saturday.

"No."
 "Well, I tell you the hardest thing about the flour business is that in examining samples the flour is thrown against the nose and sniffed. The result is that the fine particles are drawn into the lungs and affect the whole body. It cokes in the nostrils along the air passages, causing an immense amount of trouble. If Knaul had not quit as he did he would have followed Keefer."—Cincinnati Enquirer.

SILVER IN A DEAD MULE.

"Old Pete" Is Cut Open and Found to Contain a Large Silver Ball.

The teamsters driving up Aspen mountain were surprised to see a dago, as they called him, opening old Pete. The latter is the old bay mule that, it is claimed, has been working in and around silver mines for many years, and which fell down Aspen mountain a week ago and broke his neck. Old Pete was pretty hard to cut open, as he was frozen as stiff as the proverbial poker, and the dago hacked at him with an ax for two hours before he mined into his maw. He did the opening act with an ax, but when he got into the bowels he drew a butcher knife from a sheath at his side and commenced to cut in with it.

Two teamsters who were passing down the mountain with a load of ore were so much interested at this juncture that they stopped to see the end of it. Their curiosity was not long deferred, for they soon saw the Italian throw the knife to one side, make a dive into the beast's belly with his right hand, and produce an oblong black ball, which he held up near his face and examined critically. The mule skinner could stand it no longer, so, tying the reins to the brakes, they jumped down from their wagons and made their way down the mountain to the place where the dago held up his treasure. For it really proved to be a treasure—some twelve pounds of silver that looked like it had come out of a retort instead of a mule's stomach.

"Who told you that mule had a ball of silver in his belly?" asked one of the teamsters. "Mule works in silva mina always has a balla silva in a bello," replied the dago.

"Who gave you the pointer?" urged the teamster.

"Mea works in silva mina in Hispania longa tima, always kills mule, taka silva balla outa bello."

"But who told you old Pete had this bonanza in his belly?"

"Mea knowa old Peter longa time in San Juan compana, mea knowa he snuffa up heapa silver in hisa bello, keepa thera tilla you killa him, cutta open, take outa bello. He works in a heapa damno, longa, richa, tunello, where breathe silver, keepa in bello tilla he expire. He no usa longa, nowa, mea knowa; cutta hima open, take outa bello. In Hispania de Castilla mule no hiva hundred anno, like in Colorado. He works in silva mina decem anno. He geta killa fora silver in hisa bello. In Hispania man knowa heapa moro as ina Colorado; heapa damno mucha moro smarta in Hispania."

The teamsters insisted the heapa damno mucho smarter Italian should ride down to the Rust sampler with them, where the ball of silver was weighed by Mr. Vary and sized up 12 pounds 4 1/2 ounces. It was there examined by a representative of The Chronicle, and was a very interesting subject to the student in curiosities. The dago wanted to sell it to Mr. Vary at its par value, but another man came up and advised the Italian to take it east and sell it to some museum, where he could probably realize a large price from it as a curiosity. This the Italian determined to do, and took his treasure trove with him to his cabin, where he will conceal it until he can dispose of it to advantage.—Aspen (Colo.) Chronicle.

DR. MARSH, formerly of this city, writes of a rather peculiar accident resulting in the death of a fifteen-month-old daughter of one of the citizens of Muncie, Ind., a few days ago. The family were at supper when the little girl crawled up to the chair of her brother, aged four, and began prattling to him. The little fellow accidentally upset a cup of tea, the fluid falling into her face, and a great deal of it going directly into her mouth and down the throat. The parents looked on the accident as a trivial one, but the child was seized with convulsions the next day at noon. A physician was then summoned, but too late to save the little one's life.

A SPECIAL says a disturbance, which may cause further trouble, is reported from Berea College, the school founded near Richmond, Ky., 1856, for the education of whites and blacks. On January 1st ten white boys took their seats for the year at one table, to the exclusion of the colored students. One of the latter at the next meal slipped into one of the ten seats. ## An Unknown Steamer Wrecked on the Coast of Spain.

ONE HUNDRED PERSONS SUPPOSED TO HAVE PERISHED.

A Question of Serious Import Raised by the Fact That the Pope Has Investigated the Allegations Against the Irish Catholics of America—Bismarck Well Again—Foreign Notes.

LONDON, Jan. 14.—A large steamer, the name of which is unknown, has been wrecked at Sisarga, an island twenty-three miles west of Corunna, Spain. It is supposed that one hundred persons have perished. Thirty of the survivors have arrived at Corunna.

Irish Catholics of America.

LONDON, Jan. 14.—The fact that the pope has found it necessary, as reported, to make an investigation as to the truth of allegations that the Irish Catholics in America are arrogating to themselves the representation of the Roman Catholic religion in the United States has raised a question of serious import. It is true that among a certain class whose misinformation, if not downright ignorance, has led them to this belief, the Irish in America have been considered the sole upholders of Catholicism, and many Irishmen otherwise sane have suffered from similar hallucinations, not only in America but in other countries.

The statistics of the Catholic church compiled at the Vatican from accurate reports received from American prelates, however, refute this theory and represent the German element as not only numerous, but influential, and above all, generous contributors to the support not only of the church in America, but the holy see as well. With these reports before him and having also in view the authenticated representations of many of the German clergy in America that their parishioners as Catholics are subordinated in many cases to their Irish co-religionists in the matter of the distribution of moneys, the choice of edifices, etc., the pope is impelled to appoint a cardinal to investigate the question of equal rights involved.

The Catholic church in America is merely a mission at the best, there being no establishment of relations with the government or unanimity of thought among the people through which the holy see can act as it can in recognized Catholic countries, and the task to which the pontiff has betaken himself is one promising great difficulty if not absolute failure.

In addition to his appointment of a commissioner to inquire into the matter of equal rights for German Catholics, the commissioner being, incidentally, a German, his holiness is sorely exercised over the spirit of Socialism, which he has discovered to be prevalent among the Irish Catholics of America. This alleged spirit of Socialism is presumably the spirit of patriotism and love of liberty, which impels Irish-Americans to give all possible aid to the struggle for Home Rule which is being carried on in Ireland. It is this spirit he alludes to in his exhortation to American prelates, the holy father is wasting his time in combating it, whatever headway he makes in the direction of securing equal rights for his German followers.

Japanese News.

NEW WESTMINSTER, B. C., Jan. 14.—The steamer Parthena, from Japan, arrived at Vancouver Friday, with late Japanese news.

Earthquake shocks were felt in Tokio on the 16th ult. The duration of the vibration was twenty minutes.

Owing to the failure of the rice crop in Corea the government has prohibited the exportation of other cereals. The Japanese government has inquired whether the Japanese will be released from duty or not.

A fire broke out on December 26 at Tokio, which destroyed over one hundred houses before it was extinguished.

The Saigon Republican states that a loan of $4,000,000 is about to be issued, to pay for the first protectorate over Annam and Tonquin. It will be repayable in thirty years.

The Troubles in East Africa.

LONDON, Jan. 14.—The English African missionary societies are unanimous in laying the blame of the troubles in East Africa upon the invasion of that territory by the Germans. The reverend Mr. Ashe, who has recently come from Uganda, says that he discovered no trouble whatever among the natives until, upon his return, he reached a point within 200 miles of the coast, where the influence of Germany was felt. From the opinion which prevailed there Mr. Ashe is inclined to believe that the trouble will spread inland and require a stronger force than has hitherto been brought to bear to suppress it. The whole course of the Germans, Mr. Ashe asserts, has been aggressive, if not brutally oppressive, and he is unable to see anything to avert danger to all of the foreign missions laboring in the interior.

Boulanger Brags.

PARIS, Jan. 14.—On January 27 will occur, perhaps, the decisive electoral conflict between the Republic and Boulanger. The latter so regards it. At his Thursday tri-weekly reception he expressed full confidence in his election by a majority of 80,000 to represent the department of the Seine, and said: "One thing is certain, my election in Paris will sweep all France like an electric shock. I will be surely elected. Floquet and his government has done nothing but play into my hands. They give me 800,000 adherents in the Panama shareholders by their failure to sustain the enterprise."

Bismarck Himself Again.

BERLIN, Jan. 14.—Prince Bismarck is again in vigorous health. After a few weeks' stay in Berlin he will go to Varzin, taking his departure thence early in the spring. It is asserted by semi-official newspapers that the chancellors forthcoming speech in the reichstag is certain to create a great sensation. He will, it is said, endeavor to prove from the Geffcken and Morier incidents the theory that during the reign of Emperor Frederick intrigues were on foot to overthrow him.

Foreign Notes.

Two Hanover batteries are being shipped at Wilhelmshaven and will soon be sent to Zanzibar.

It is reported that Ruiz Zorilla, the Spanish Republican, left Paris on Wednesday last with the intention of embarking with his followers on two vessels lying in the Thames, and proceeding to Spain, where he contemplated raising a revolt. The authorities at Madrid, however, were advised of Zorilla's movements, and the plan was frustrated.

Mr. Gladstone has written a very cordial letter to M. Francois DePressense, the Parisian author of a new work on Ireland, wherein the ex-premier says the writer has treated admirably a subject more burning than those attending the times of Mary Stuart or Charles I. "Such efforts," he says, "prove my assertion that the whole civilized world is with us."

A FEMININE DR. JEKYLL.

Strange Mania of a Well Known Lady of Elmira, New York.

ELMIRA, N. Y., Jan. 14.—Mrs. Aurelia V. Rothwell has made a strange confession to the chief of police. She says she has been sending anonymous letters of a mischief-making character to scores of people in this city. She has lived a dual life—outwardly, that of an exemplary Christian woman, secretly that of a mischief-maker and scandal breeder. Her letters teem with obscenity, and were addressed to every one who would be harrowed by them. During the past six years she must have written reams of paper in satisfying her peculiar mania. Families have been broken up, friends alienated, societies disorganized, and the shadow of suspicion thrown over the reputable and innocent people by her pernicious messages.

She completely broke up a lodge of Good Templars here four years ago. Rev. A. W. Spooner, the pastor of the Lake Street Presbyterian church, has been much persecuted by the woman. It is believed by the chief of police that it was she who wrote the anonymous letters that led to the separation of Mr. and Mrs. S. T. Reynolds, prominent and wealthy people. Private detectives were paid liberally for the services in trying to find who wrote the letters, but they failed. Among those who have reported that they have in the past received some of the mischief making letters are H. Bullock, state organizer of the Woman's Christian Temperance union; Mrs. O. C. Dounce, Mrs. T. B. Delor, Mrs. H. M. Doggett and Mrs. Leroy Baker. Mrs. Rothwell was not arrested.

Ohio Legislature.

COLUMBUS, Jan. 14.—The senate spent the afternoon discussing Senator Rannell's bill to exempt from judicial seizure pension money to any person by the United States government, and to exempt from judicial sale any homestead paid for with pension money and held by the pensioner. The bill was finally postponed to next Thursday. The senate then adjourned to 4 p. m. Monday.

In the house, Mr. McKelvey's bill, permitting school houses to be used for literary entertainments, school exhibitions and singing schools, was passed. Mr. Sanford's bill to authorize suit by and against associations and companies not incorporated, was defeated. Mr. Tryon's bill, requiring farmers to pay tax for county roads and not work the tax out, was taken up section by section, and, pending its passage, the house recessed.

Natural Gas Pipe Explodes.

TIFFIN, O., Jan. 14.—The pipe line from Tiffin to the Wood county gas field exploded one mile west of this city Friday night, and a half dozen workmen narrowly escaped being killed. The ground was torn up in a manner beyond conception. A passing train on the Baltimore & Ohio ignited the gas, and the blaze from the 12,000,000 feet of nature's fuel made such a terrible heat that trains were unable to pass until the pipe was turned off. The pressure lifted the pipe entirely from the trench.

A Ghost's Revenge.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Jan. 14.—An exodus of negroes from Lawrence county is reported. Last July Calvin Moody, a negro murderer, was lynched by colored men. The negroes assert that they have seen a ghost at the house where the Moody family lived. Those who took part in the lynching have left, and a correspondent writes that if the exodus continues Lawrence county will soon be without a colored citizen.

Shot His Son-in-Law.

STEVENS POINT, Wis., Jan. 14.—Dr. A. C. Meyers, one of the best known physicians in this part of the state and United States examiner of pensions at this place, was shot dead in the street here by his aged father-in-law, Patrick Griffiths. The victim and his brother-in-law, Will Griffiths, had quarreled a few minutes before and were walking side by side when the tragedy occurred. Dr. Meyers' wife was shot dead in her bedroom a month ago. Though Meyers claimed she killed herself, the coroner's jury returned a verdict to the effect that she came to her death at the hands of some one unknown. Griffiths believed that Meyers was the murderer of his daughter, and when he shot him he exclaimed: "Blood for blood." The father and son were arrested.

Ten Rounds to a Draw.

BOSTON, Jan. 14.—A ten-round light glove fight took place in this city Friday evening between Mike Dyer, an old favorite with Bostonians, and Joe Mullin, of Weymouth. The men fought at about 140 pounds. Pete McCoy acted as referee, and John L. Sullivan was one of the seconds. The fight was a draw.

Murderer Killed by a Mob.

NEW FLORENCE, Mo., Jan. 14.—Isaac Will, who escaped from the Danville jail, December 30, where he had been confined some months for an unsuccessful attempt to kill his wife, Thursday made his appearance here, and attempted to gain admittance to his wife's chamber. The city marshal was notified of Will's action, and proceeded to arrest him. Will shot him through the heart. A posse of citizens followed Will and killed him.

The Republicans Had to Go.

RICHMOND, Va., Jan. 14.—A clean sweep of all the Republicans employed on the new city hall building was made Friday night. The action was taken by direction of the Democratic committee on grounds and buildings of the city council, which issued the edict, "Put none but Democrats on guard."

No Ice Carnival.

ST. PAUL, Minn., Jan. 14.—At a meeting of the carnival directors Friday afternoon it was formally decided to abandon the project of having an ice palace and carnival this winter, owing to the mildness of the weather, there being neither ice nor snow.

Smallpox at New Holland.

NEW HOLLAND, O., Jan. 14.—On account of the smallpox and scarlet fever scare here, the public schools closed Friday. There are several clearly defined cases of smallpox, and quite a number of cases of scarlet fever.

She Wouldn't Work.

One could scarcely expect a cow, not trained to the profession of arms, to conduct herself with great self possession as one of an army. In the "Story of a Boy Company" is to be found an anecdote concerning one such new recruit—a cow which, with several hens and a rooster, were attached to a Confederate battery. As soon as a halt was made for the night the fowls were taken from the wagon, where they rode, the rooster was tied to a wheel spoke by the leg and his family always remained near him.

As the war progressed, and the horses grew poor, the cow was brought into use as a beast of burden. She was saddled, dishes, frying pans and coffee pots were hung upon the saddle, and the docile creature moved away, quite oblivious of the clatter on her back. She was usually tied to a caisson, but often she was turned loose, and thus followed the battery like an enlisted soldier.

During the last winter of the war a large, raw boned, brindle cow strayed into camp, and although at first wild, she soon followed the example of the veteran and became an orderly recruit.

One day, when a sudden start had been ordered, it was thought advisable to utilize the new cow as a porter. A little fellow named Carlton was ordered to saddle the cows. The old one was quickly loaded with the captain's baggage, recently killed chickens and other rations, and Carlton then proceeded to put the coffee pot, skillet and other utensils upon the bridle. He was obliged to make her fast to a pine tree in order to load her rapidly.

Everything was ready, the battery was about to move, and the captain directed Carlton to let go the ropes, and make the bridle follow in the wake of the old cow who had just taken the line of march in good order. But no sooner had the ropes slipped from bridle's horns than, with head, heels and tail high in the air, she sped down the hill, the sound of her bellowing mingling with the clatter of tin, and forming a bass and tenor seldom heard.

After freeing herself of every vestige of her pack she slowly returned, seeking her companion. The scattered load was collected and placed again upon her back, but as soon as she was free, with a bound and bellow, she fled down the hill, this time never to return.

She Loved the Kid.

"That is the strangest attachment I ever saw formed, and I've been around with circuses, man and boy, for forty-six years," said Harry Pierce, the veteran in charge of Grenier's wild beasts, in the winter quarters of the menagerie at the corner of Randolph and Ann streets. He referred to a white Burmese cow and a white kid, which were made fast, close by one another, to a wheel of the great cage in which was the hippopotamus. "Why, sir," said Pierce, approaching close to the animals with The Herald reporter, "we dare not separate them, even for a few moments, lest the cow go into fits. She will cry, moan and take on like a human being if it is out of her sight for a moment. She is evidently under the delusion that it is her calf. She will lick it, get close by its side, insist upon its having the choice of all food and fight for it, if needs be."—Chicago Herald.

Returning Good for Evil.

A strange scene occurred the other day at Sierck, on the Moselle. Herr Schmidt had a dog which he wished to get rid of. Rowing out into the middle of the river, he fastened a stone round the dog's head and threw him into the water. The animal sank at once, but during his struggles the rope slipped the stone, and he again rose to the surface and tried to get back into the boat. His master, however, continued to push him back, but as the dog persevered he lost his patience, and, striking at him with his oar, lost his footing and fell into the water himself. He was unable to swim, but the dog, seizing him by the coat, succeeded in bringing him to the land, after having been washed away by the current. The dog's life was spared, we are happy to say.—Hall's Journal of Health.
